"Joris Delacroix delivers a vibe of melodic house & techno, with some passages through tech-house and indie dance."

Magnetic Magazine

"'Need Your Attention' finds the producer dipping back into his deep house roots, a lush construction that includes work from Cebb. Crafted in the south of France, there's a sense of freedom and independence within the song."

CLASH Magazine

"'Need Your Attention' takes the rolling basslines synonymous with Joris Delacroix's style and draws in some distorted reverberation, a smattering of rasping vocals and an undivided emotion for the art."

FLAUNT

"Where most dance music strives to be as expansive and monstrous as possible, 'Early Hours' is tangible and in your face; a finely cut gem that's just an arm's length away."

Dancing Astronaut

[Joris Delacroix] "hovers somewhere in between melodic techno and deep house, led by heavy bass lines and gloomy atmospheres."

Deep House Amsterdam

[On Joris Delacroix] "The eclectic French producer and DJ offers an innovative and refined version of trance"

Billboard Italia

[Joris Delacroix] "The track, displaying a subtle balance between power and melancholy, flows in a progression of more than seven minutes, raising the pressure over the arpeggios and rhythmic flights"

DJ Mag France

[Joris Delacroix] "An innovative, refined take on trance, 'Stay' pairs emotion-drenched euphoria with light, airy synths, creating a track that is both honest and restrained."

It's all about mixing peaceful and dreamy vibes with powerful and uplifting sensations in a constantly evolving way. This contradictory feeling resonates deep inside in me and I still need to express it through my music. The style is between House music and Electronica and the main theme takes influences from Stephan Bodzin and Vitalic."*
