

Over the past few years, Urumi has established herself as one of the most promising french dj and producers of her generation. With boundless energy, she has created a unique, dark and danceable universe, skilfully combining French rap and electronic music.

After a successful residency in Berlin and more recently at Pacha Ibiza, she has been criss-crossing the dancefloors of France and Europe with a unique set consisting mainly of Techno / Trance edits and Frapcore tracks, which she presented in 2024 on the stages of prestigious festivals (Transmusicales, We Love Green, Primavera Sound, Solidays, Les Ardentès, Les Plages électroniques, Les Eurokéesennes...).

With the acclaimed release of her RAP2RAVE project, she became the new princess of Frapcore, remixing artists such as Hamza, Zola, Ateyaba and La Fève. A project that earned her a place on the promising electronic music label All Night Long, alongside Trym, TDJ and Acid Arab. The artist then quickly followed up with her new single "J'ai pas envie", mixing Ghetto Tech and Nu Gabber in a dark, uninhibited techno universe over which Urumi reigns with power.

She is now about to release "WIG", a techno-trance banger eagerly awaited by her public and a foretaste of the color of her EP expected for early 2025.
